MACROSCOPIC DESCRIPTION

The Crema Delicato, belonging to a very rare family, is an Italian marble extracted in the basins of Carrara of Torano and Miseglia, characterized by a light beige base with tenderness to ivory and the occasional presence of bands and rare brown veins, aligned with second the shyness.

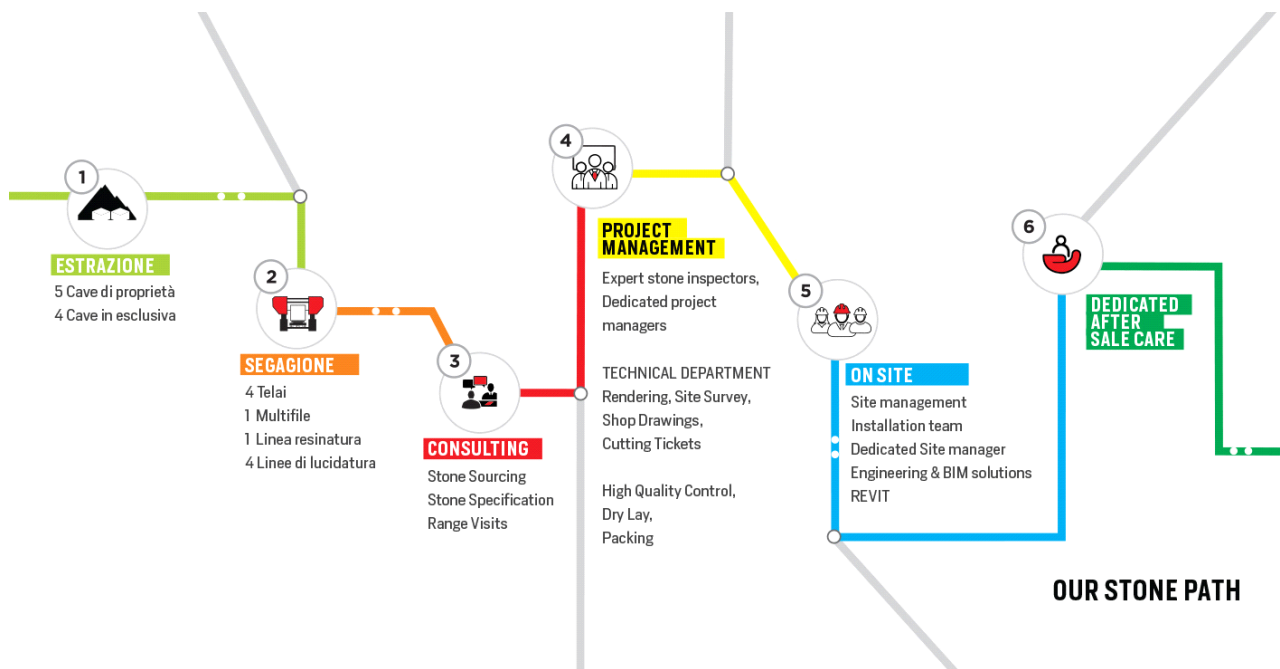

Homogeneous and with rare surface porosity, the Crema Delicato marble is marked by a fine grain, locally flowing through the flank of the centimeter nodules. Of great value and elegance, this material is particularly suitable for residential architecture.
